Promoted streams contain five stories, whether or not they include an ad. The stories flow in in priority order, but their position varies between the two layouts.

Stories "1" and "2" always have images (a), and are positioned center and right when there is no ad.

The remaining stories are stacked without images (b) top-to-bottom on the left side.

When there is an ad...

Items "1" and "2" (a) migrate left.

The ad (b) takes the right-most position.

Remaining stories (c) are left-to-right at the bottom of the block.

Multiple streams

When multiple streams are promoted, they will alternate between containing an ad and not containing an ad.

The choice between these two layout is not made by the editor; they simply choose the order of the five stories, and the order of the streams.

Ad<sup>a</sup> (a).

No ad (b).

Ad (c).
